from the Vice-President

The EURO Working Groups represent the only permanent form of scientific cooperation undertaken by EURO. As such, their activities are strongly encouraged by the Executive Committee that has traditionally delegated this responsibility to its Vice-President.

During my three years in office I have assumed this responsibility as my first priority. Different working groups have their own ways of cooperating but they all serve a common purpose - the exchange of ideas, experience and results. Most of them resemble clubs where friendship is an important factor for fruitful scientific cooperation.

This is the second yearly report of the activities of EWGs. Our newly created bulletin is the ideal means for the circulation of this type of information.

As a further push to support the working groups the EURO Council approved for the first time a special budget for some special activities. This year the Executive Committee is going to submit a general revision of the charter for EWGs. A major chance in which is the consideration of financial support as follows:

1.1) Administration
- Printing costs of common stationery;
- Printing of a special issue of the EURO Bulletin containing the yearly report of the activities of EWGs (to be distributed during the EURO conferences and directly to OR societies);
- Cost of a yearly meeting of EWGs coordinators, over lunch, during the EURO conferences;
- Administration costs entailed in the establishment of new EWGs (first two years of activity) when alternative financing can not be found.

1.2) Scientific Activities
A “reserve budget” that EWGs could call upon should be created. This fund could be used to pay for expenses of guest speakers (non-members of the Working Group) to initiate and/or publish results of joint research projects, and similar activities. The money would be paid out by the Treasurer after approval by the Vice-President in charge of EWGs.

2) EURO encourages and supports activities that can further the scientific objectives of the EWGs, promote their activities and raise funds. Namely:

2.1) Mini-EURO conferences: the EWGs are encouraged to organize such conferences within the general rules established by EURO.

2.2) Special issues of EJOR: the EWGs are encouraged to produce special issues of EJOR after consultation and approval by EJOR editors. 50% of the royalties from these issues would be made available to support the scientific activities of the EWGs. The money would be kept in EURO custody and paid out by the Treasurer to cover specific expenses after approval by the Vice-President in charge of EWGs.

My warmest thanks to all the coordinators of EWGs who are doing a great job and who have so kindly kept me informed of their activities. I hope to meet you all again in Helsinki for our annual meeting on the 30th June at 12 o’clock.

Any member interested in the activities of a Working Group should contact the coordinator of that group.

Multicriteria Aid for Decisions

COORDINATOR: Prof. Dr. B. Roy, LAMSADE, Université de Paris Dauphine, Place du Maréchal de Lattre de Tassigny F-75775 PARIS CEDEX 16, FRANCE (tel.: (33) (1) 45 05 14 10, fax: (33) (1) 47 55 44 22).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

Multicriteria decision aid is an important branch of Operational Research. Since 1968, there has been a major development of methods, concepts and applications in many directions.

Beyond the exchanges and meetings which already exist by means of the international conferences and the publications in the scientific journals, the objectives of the working group are the following:

- to contribute to develop an original way of thinking, at a European level in the field of multicriteria aid for decisions;
- to allow each member of the group to present his research, submit those to the critical discussion of the group, to present open problems;
- to keep a continuity in the exchanges and the work from one meeting to another;
- to keep the climate of a working group and not to transform the meeting in a small congress.

The working group was created at EURO 1 (Brussels, 1975). Since that time, two meetings are held each year.

The Rules of the Group are available on request from the coordinator.

Fuzzy Sets/IFSA European Chapter

COORDINATOR: Dr. M. Reinfrank, SIEMENS AG, MUNICH, GERMANY (tel.: (49) (89) 636 46527, fax: (49) (89) 636 44150).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

This working group was formed at the EURO 1 Congress in Brussels in 1975. The initiator and first chairman of the group was Prof. H. Zimmermann of RTWH / Aachen (FRG). The organization of the group, the forms its activities have taken, and the vitality and activity of the group are to a great extent due to his efforts.

The second chairman, Prof. Christer of Abo Academy (Finland) was acting since 1979 until 1986.

During the First IFSA (International Fuzzy Systems Association) Congress in Mallorca on July, 1-6, 1985, with due permission of the EURO Council the working group constituted itself as the European chapter of IFSA. Prof. Carlsson was elected as the first president of the European Chapter, with Prof. M. Roubens the president-elect, Prof. P. Smets treasurer, Prof. U. Höhö secretory and Dr. D. Dubois and A. Straszak members at large.

The purpose of the IFSA-EC is to communicate and to promote knowledge of the theory of Fuzzy Sets and related areas and their applications.

In order to realize the objectives the IFSA-EC publishes Newsletters and Bulletins, organizes workshops and symposia, establishes sub-chapters and sponsors such other activities consistent with the objectives as may be directed by the Board.

NUMBER OF MEMBERS: 200 (EURO), 48 (IFSA).

NEWSLETTER: The French bulletin BUSEPAL is used as a forum for newsletters to the members, and members have been encouraged to submit working papers to BUSEPAL. The Group supports the Fuzzy Sets and Systems journal edited by North-Holland.

ACTIVITIES:

--IFSA-EC-EURO-WG Workshop on Applications of Fuzzy Control, Munich (Germany), February 13-14, 1992 (attended by more than 100 participants);

OR Applied to Health Services

SECRETARY: Dr. M. Lubcz, Institute of Organisation and Management, Technical University Wroclaw, Wybrzeze Wyspianskiego 27, 50-370 Wroclaw, POLAND (tel.: (48) (71) 20 28 64).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

The decision to set up the Health Working Group was taken at EURO 1, Brussels, January 1973, making this group one of the first WGs established by EURO.

The first meeting of the group took place in September 1975 in Exeter, U.K. and meetings have been taking place in different European countries every summer since then.

The aims of the group were restated at our 1991 meeting to be:

1- To improve co-operation and communication, and to encourage and support inspiration by group members;
2- To enable and support inter-disciplinary work on European health care issues;
3- To examine European health care systems using rational and systematic methods;
4- To encourage bilateral contacts between members throughout each year.

The title of the group "Operational Research Applied to Health Services" reflects the premise that the major challenge for OR scientists currently working in the health fields lies not in developing new and/or more sophisticated techniques, but in using what expertise they currently possess to make more of an impact on the delivery of healthcare.

The idea is to provide a professional network, where the emphasis is on the exchange of professional knowledge as on establishing social rela-

To achieve this end, the size of the group is kept relatively small, and continuity of the group is regarded as highly valuable and the social programme of the meetings plays an important part.

EURO Banking special interest group

COORDINATOR: Mr. K.A. Moss, Midland Bank plc, Head Office, Poultry, LONDON EC2P 2BX, U.K. (tel.: (44) (71) 260 73 53, fax: (44) (71) 260 70 70).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

The European Working Group on EURO Banking was set up in Brussels in January 1975 at the EURO I Conference sponsored by the International Federation of Operational Research Societies.

The purpose of the group is for OR practitioners to exchange and stimulate ideas about the techniques, experience, philosophy and application of operational research in banking. A secondary objective is to project operational research to bank management.

The Group has members from virtually all Western European countries and the total membership is over two hundred. Membership is open to all those employed by banks in operational research or similar departments. Membership is at present free to all members of National European Operational Research Societies.

There is a National Co-ordinator for each country represented in the Group. Normally National Co-ordinators meet with the Chairman and Secretary twice a year as the Executive Committee. The role of the National Co-ordinator is a contact point, co-ordinator of views and representative of his country.

COORDINATOR: Prof. C. Michelot, Laboratoire d'Analyse Numérique, Université de Bourgogne, B.P. 130, 21004 DIJON CEDEX, FRANCE (tel.: (33) 80 385 873).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

The decision to set up a Working Group in the field of Location Analysis has been taken during the First EURO Summer Institute (Brussels, July 1984) with the idea to provide a network of people working together and to keep a continuity in the exchanges.

So, the major goal of the WG is to stimulate the exchange of information and of scholarship: continuity of the group is regarded to be of main importance, and friendship among members plays an important role.

However, it must be pointed out that the WG is not an exclusive circle. Everybody who is interested to present his work, to participate in the discussions, or more simply to learn about the subject may join the group; his participation will be greatly appreciated. Either theoretical contributions (concepts, methods ...) or applied research, presentation of software, are welcome. Communications, discussions or surveys on new applications, open problems, connection between the field of Location Theory and related areas (cluster analysis, location-routing problems, multicriteria analysis, approximation theory...), are of great interest.

ESIGMA EURO Summer Institute Group on Multicriteria Analysis

COORDINATOR: C. A. Bana e Costa, CESUR - IST, Av. Rovisco Pais, 1000 LISBOA, PORTUGAL (tel.: (351) (1) 60 97 05, (351) (1) 60 95 80, fax: (351) (1) 80 96 84).

PURPOSE AND HISTORY:

At the end of the Second Euro Summer Institute (Brussels, July 1985), which was devoted to Multicriteria Analysis, the participants expressed a strong interest in continuing to work together. This was the result of three weeks of fruitful and friendly collaboration. So, the idea was born to create a working Group on Multicriteria Analysis.

ESIGMA is open to everybody who is interested in Multicriteria Analysis and who wants to present results, applications or open problems, and to participate in the discussions, or simply to learn about this subject and to be kept well informed of its recent developments. One very important aspect is that the meetings of ESIGMA should not be too formal: a large place should be given to discussions. This means that problems which are not completely solved are welcome.

As another group already exists within the EURO on the same subject (Multicriteria Aid for Decisions), it must be pointed out that the purpose of ESIGMA obviously is not to be in competition with it but to be complementary to it in two ways essentially:

a) in order to make it easier for the researchers to attend the meetings of the group, ESIGMA will meet once a year, at the occasion of the EURO Conferences; special arrangements will be made for years without a EURO Conference. (The meetings of the other group are in March and October of each year).

b) in order to encourage people of all nationalities to participate, the main language of ESIGMA will be English (an understanding of French is recommended for participation in the meetings of the other group).

Since that time, the Group has come quite a long way. Its members have been very active conducting individual/joint research work as well as giving the Group increasing visibility. Several activities have already taken place; many others are in the planning stage. The group has been meeting once a year, every time in a different country.

Kulis from Roehampton Institute in London. The other members of the committee are: Dr. P. Kanof (Italy), Dr. R. J. Paul (UK), Dr. E. Whitley (UK) and Dr. D. Wikarski (Germany). Full details of the members of the committee is attached.

This group was created to provide a European basis for furthering the study and application of all areas of information systems. It is intended that the group will complement the EWGs Activity Report

The interests of the UK Operational Research Society, who are sponsoring the European Journal of Information Systems and the First European Conference on Information Systems, to provide a dynamic European focus for this area of interest.

ACTIVITIES 91:

The WG was formed in July 1991 during the 11th EURO Conference in Aachen. The members of the Committee met in October 1991 at the London School of Economics to organize activities for 1992-1993. There was a second meeting in London in February 1992 for the same purpose.

FUTURE PLANNED ACTIVITIES:

The EWG will be involved with the organization of two major events in 1993:

Dr. E. Whitley (member of the committee) will help organize sessions on Information Systems for IFORS-XIII.

The themes are:

i) The relationship of IS and OR;
ii) Information Systems applications;
iii) Information Systems and the organization.

Those who are willing to present papers they should contact Dr. Whitley (see attached address). The WG will organize also a round table discussion about the future research directions of Information Systems during the IFORS Conference.

The WG will be actively involved in organizing the above conference. Dr. E. Whitley will be the Conference organizer and Prof. C. Doukidis will be a member of the Programme Committee of this major European Conference on IS which is organized in association with the European Journal of Information Systems through the Operations Research Society. Those who would like to present a paper or attend the conference should contact Dr. Whitley or Prof. C. Doukidis. A call for papers will soon be out.

Another activity of the WG is to attract as many people as possible for the IS field in Europe. Those who are interested in becoming members of the EURO WG on Information Systems in order to receive constant information about our activities or participate/organize the various events should send a brief note to the acting chairman or acting secretary of the WG. European Standard for Risk Management Education

The Association Européenne des Assures de l’Industrie, the European Risk Management Association, which represents risk managers in nine European countries, has agreed a core curriculum in risk management education.

The identification, analysis and economic control of risk has become an increasingly important aspect of business activity and AEAI felt that the time was appropriate to co-ordinate educational efforts. A group comprising practicing risk managers and risk management academicians has been working for the past year to design a suitable programme. The outcome of their deliberations has been a core curriculum comprising five subjects: Risk Analysis, Risk Control, Risk Financing, Business Organisation & Finance, Corporate Risk Management.

AEAI will not itself provide courses but member associations from the countries all identify existing providers of education such as universities, colleges or institutes.

The hope is that a better educated group of risk managers will be prepared for the future. A group of people able to respond to the enormous challenges of risk in modern industry and society.

AEAI was formed in 1974 and is headquartered in Brussels (AEAI c/o P. Settembrino, rue Montoyer 51, B-1040 Brussels, Belgium). Board members represent member associations and meet at least twice a year.

Member associations are: GACI, France; A.O.G. The Netherlands; AIRWIC, U.K.; G.A.I./V.I.I., Belgium; ANRA, Italy; V.I.V., Germany; AGERS, Spain; D.E.R.M.K., Denmark; S.I.R.M., Switzerland.

Sub-committees are formed to deal with EEC authorities and officials and such issues as product liability, reinsurance capacity, freedom of services.

OR netWork Bridging the gap

In the world of Operational Research, the gap between theory and practice is well-known.

Many OR workers have tried to bridge this gap, convinced that it is undesirable, for society as well as for our profession. This has resulted in articles in professional journals, books and courses especially designed to support managers. But the gap continues to exist, albeit less wide than in the past.

At a very modest scale, we have tried since May 1986 to promote our profession outside academic circles. At the IFORS’89 Conference in Athens, we presented our ideas and achievements so far, and had the pleasure of meeting persons interested in joining an OR netWork. Later on, we received some very encouraging mail from all over the world. This year, at EURO XI at Aachen, we continued our efforts with the result that more people joined the network.

If you are interested in the OR netWork and are willing to participate in some way or another, please do contact us:

CALL FOR PAPERS

Special Issue of Operations Research on New Directions for Operations Management Research

Operations Research, the journal of the Operation Research Society of America (ORS) is pleased to announce a special issue on new directions for operations management research. The field of operations management is evolving rapidly. New problem contexts and research paradigms are emerging. Traditional, model-based research is being augmented by a wide range of disciplinary and empirical approaches.

In spite of these exciting changes, the research agenda for operations management has not changed significantly in the last 20 years. Accordingly, there is a need to provide a forum for introducing and disseminating new research directions to the Operations Research community. The special issue of Operations Research will address these needs.

Submitted papers will be evaluated on the basis of one or more of the following criteria:

- Realism: Has a complex, realistic operations problem been analyzed?
- Implementation: Have the results and/or methods been implemented in support of management decisions?
- Empirical Results: Has primary data been collected and analyzed, leading to insights on the performance and tradeoffs associated with operations environments?
- Innovation: Has a new problem paradigm, solution methodology or approach been developed, and will it inspire follow-on research?
- Insights: Are new and possibly provocative insights derived from the results of the analysis?
- Impact: Does the paper develop new ideas or methods?
- Analytical Contribution: Has a significant contribution been made to the field?
- Discipline Foundations: Is the research well grounded in one or more of the basic research disciplines, while still making a solid contribution to Operations Research?

We are looking for quality submissions in all aspects of operations management including:

- Economic Model in Operations Management;
- The Product Design Process;
- Global Coordination and Logistics;
- Manufacturing Process Design and Group Technology;
- Accounting and Finance Interface with Manufacturing;
- Service Sector Operations Management;
- Information Technology and Manufacturing Automation;
- Quality Improvement;
- Time-Based Competition;
- Continuous Improvement and Process Re-engineering;
- The Marketing/Manufacturing Interface.

All manuscripts will be refereed according to the usual procedures followed by Operations Research. Four copies of the paper, following the standard submission guidelines for Operations Research, should be sent by October 15, 1993 to the editors of the special issue:

Morris A. Cohen, Decision Sciences Department, The Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, 1200 SFWH, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6365, USA.

Michael Magazine, Department of Management Sciences, University of Waterloo, Waterloo, Ontario, N2L 3G1 Canada.
