EURO Bulletin is on Internet

A new scale has been reached with the use of electronic mail and network information tools on Internet.

A revised EURO Brochure, the special Spring '94 issue on EWGs & Networks (EURO Bulletin Vol.3 N°1), the Summer '94 issue (Vol.3 N°2) and the present Fall issue are online on the EURO World Wide Web server accessible through the server of the Free University of Brussels, URL="http://www.ulb.ac.be/"

Furthermore, the EURO publications are in the process to be available on the anonymous ftp server "ftp.ulb.ac.be" in directory "/pub/projects/euro".

If you have any information, questions or remarks they will be welcomed at E-mail: EURO@ULB.AC.BE.

National Societies or Individual members having news for the EURO Bulletin are requested to send their information to the editor: Ph. Van Asbroeck, 108 av. Sleeckx, B-1030 Brussels, Belgium (tel. & fax: 32 2 245 60 69). All recipients are free to copy the contents of the EURO Bulletin without charge and without requesting specific permission.

Report of the EURO Council Meeting

The EURO Council met at EURO XIII/OR 36 at the beginning of July. It had before it a formidable agenda which began with the admission of new member societies - The Czech and Slovak Societies separately, Bulgaria and Croatia.

Publications

Philippe Van Asbroeck reported on the continuing success of the EURO Bulletin which henceforth will contain more standing information such as the deadlines for nominations for the Gold Medal (end October 1994), for ESls etc. The Bulletin and the EURO Brochure are now available on Internet.

EJOR increases in popularity with authors, so much so that the issues continue to grow and the hard efforts of the editors have continued to generate even more funds for EURO. Indeed EURO could not survive without this source of income. But member societies and individual members thereof must play their part too. EJOR needs more referees and I appeal therefore to all of you who have had or hope to have papers published to offer your services to the Editors. The task is not onerous and it is a vital one if the Journal's high standards are to be maintained. Furthermore new papers are required for publication from 1996 onwards. EURO has an obligation to help the editors fill their pages and it can only do this through the members. There is a steady programme of publication by EURO Working Groups and ESls and Costas Pappis is preparing a special issue for the 20th Anniversary of EURO in 1994, but I do say to individuals that there is now plenty of time to prepare that new paper that you have in mind and to send it to EJOR which is our own European OR learned publication and a leader among international publications too.

Permanent Secretariat

Council was well pleased with the smooth running of EURO's office under Philippe Van Asbroeck and approved a contract with The Free University of Brussels for a further year. It was also grateful for the support of Philippe Vincke, the Vice-rector.
EURO Council Meeting

EURO-K Conferences

EURO's K conferences continue to be the main forum for interchange of ideas, meeting old friends and making new ones. Council noted that although the UK OR Society's generous joining of EURO XIII with its 36th annual conference was expected to stimulate numbers, finally they exceeded all expectations. Over 600 papers in 34 parallel sessions produced over 850 attendees - a record. Everyone to whom I spoke at the conference said that it was a great success. Everyone who has written to me since has said the same. I would like publicly to congratulate Valerie Belton and Denis Bouyssou and their two committees and to thank them for their hard work.

Meanwhile Zilla Sinuany-Stern and Roman Slowinski continue their early preparations for EURO XIV in Jerusalem in 1995. In recognition of the high costs associated with the venue, Council voted a special grant of CHF 20,000 to be used partly to reduce the general conference fee and partly to meet the conference fees in whole or in part of those coming from the least affluent countries. As usual the decision is left to the conference chairman. 1996 will be the year of the first Up' conference hosted by the UK ORS.

It is planned that EURO XV (1997) would be held in Barcelona at the invitation of the Spanish society and be a joint conference with INFORMS. This is subject to a final agreement being reached on a protocol. A very workmanlike meeting was held between EURO, TIMS (now INFORMS) and the Spanish OR society and an agreement worked out which has been approved in principle by the Councils of TIMS and ORSA. Copies have been mailed to EURO member societies for their reactions.

EURO XVI (1998) will be held in Belgium at the invitation of the Belgian OR Society. The second Up' conference year will be 1999. Bids from member societies should go to Tuula Kinnunen by 30th November 1995. EURO XVIII is now renamed EURO 2000 for obvious reasons. Member societies are invited to make preliminary bids to host this centennial event by 30th April 1995.

European Summer Institutes

Catherine Roucairol reported on the success of the 1994 ESI on Combinatorial Optimization, hosted by France. 19 nationalities took part. The next two in the series are UK (18-29...
Report of the EURO Council Meeting

1996 should similarly be made by 30th November 1995.

Education

Costas Pappis was congratulated on his success in being the first EURO officer to obtain a grant from the EU - for publishing a handbook on European OR courses. Council voted a matching grant of 10,000 ecus.

Accounts

The accounts for 1995 were approved by Council, as was the budget for 1995, amended to take account of the new grants voted at the meeting.

Elections

Finally I am pleased to report the election of Denis Bouyssou as Secretary from 1st January 1995, Marino Widmer as Treasurer and Rainer Burkard as EURO Vice-president of IFORS. They will succeed Catherine Roucairol, Jean Bovet and Jakob Krarup respectively. To them I offer my thanks for their stalwart efforts during their terms of office. I hope to see as many readers of the Bulletin as possible in Jerusalem next year where your new President will be Paolo Toth. To him I offer my best wishes and my continuing support.

Maurice Shutler
from the EJOR Editors

EAJOR

EJOR is now accepted as being of the very highest quality. On every ranking of comparable journals, only Management Science and Operations Research are rated more highly.

Moves to increase the quality even further are constantly being made. For example, the newly introduced Referee's Report form explicitly asks whether the paper advances knowledge significantly and those considered to be only minor developments will be rejected.

The number of pages will increase to 5,320 in 1995 from 4,400 in 1994, with the specific objective of reducing the backlog of accepted papers at the end of 1995 to no more than nine months. The Editors regret this increase but the Publisher declined to provide free issues to subscribers as a means of reducing the backlog. Obviously a consequence is that in 1995, more papers will be published than the Editors intend to accept. Ultimately, this should lead to a reduction in the size of EJOR, which the Publisher would also not like, unless the number of high quality papers increases. Certainly, the Editors are strongly opposed to any further increases in the size of EJOR!

As a consequence of the increased number of pages, in 1995 EURO will receive 191 thousand Swiss francs from EJOR, which is 78% of EURO's budgeted income and represents a payment of CHF19.35 for every member of the societies belonging to EURO.

One of the reasons for the large backlog is the surge in papers from North America, where papers in EJOR are now widely accepted from promotion to tenured full professorships. Thus a breakdown of the authorships of the two most recently published volumes, 74 and 75, reveals the following geographical percentage breakdown: North America 48, Europe 40, Far East 6, Others 6.

A breakdown of the European authorship for those particular issues reveals that the principal European contributors were the Netherlands, Germany, Sweden, Finland, the United Kingdom, Italy and France. Papers from 26 countries were included, indicating the truly international character of EJOR. The breakdown in authorship is also mirrored by the countries from which the referees are drawn.

EURO XIV 14th European Conference on Operational Research "OR: TOWARDS INTELLIGENT DECISION SUPPORT"
Jerusalem, Israel, July 3-6, 1995

The EURO XIV Conference will be hosted by the Operations Research Society of Israel (ORSIS). The Conference will be held at the Hebrew University, Givat Ram Campus in West Jerusalem. 1995 will be the 20th Anniversary of the foundation of EURO. The Conference will mark it by some special events.

The EURO XIV Conference will make a point of new methodological developments in OR and their applications in ever expanding professional and scientific areas. The list of topics includes many new items emphasizing the trend of OR towards Intelligent Decision Support. Artificial Intelligence, Computer Science, Decision and Information Sciences, and New Technologies are contributing to this trend. A continuing aim of EURO is to bridge, using various instruments, the well-known gap between theory and practice of OR. At EURO XIV, a new instrument will be introduced to this aim: a prize for the paper which describes the best practical application. While the EURO Gold Medal will traditionally be conferred at the opening plenary session, the prize for the best applied paper will be awarded at the closing plenary session. All members of the international OR community are cordially invited and encouraged to present papers describing their current research and applications. Do not miss the chance of speaking, listening and meeting or making friends at EURO XIV in Jerusalem.

Call for Papers

Authors who wish to present a paper should mail one typed copy of their abstract (in English) to the Conference Secretariat no later than November 15, 1994. Please include CHF 75 submission fee payable to the Secretariat c/o ORTRA Ltd (will be deducted from the registration fee).

Abstracts should be written in English, typed single-space in an area of 15 x 23 cm (6 x 9 inch) on a single A4 or quarto size page. The title should be typed in CAPITAL LETTERS, leave 1 line space and then type authors' names and addresses (underline the name of the presenting author), do not underline addresses, leave a 2 line space and continue with text, example:

14TH EUROPEAN CONFERENCE ON OPERATIONAL RESEARCH

Begin text.......

Please mail the original and three photocopies of your abstract to the Secretariat of the Conference. Do not fold the abstracts or photocopies. Send the material in padded envelope and write "do not fold" on the envelope.

Deadline for submission: November 15, 1994.

EURO PRIZE for the BEST APPLIED PAPER

EURO is pleased to announce the EURO Prize for Best Applied Paper to be awarded in conjunction with its EURO-k Conferences. The first prize will be presented at the EURO-XIV Conference in Jerusalem. The purposes of the competition are to recognize outstanding accomplishments in the practice of Operational Research and to encourage the presentation of good applied Operational Research work at EURO conferences.

The EURO Prize for the Best Applied Paper will be given to the best paper describing a practical application of Operational Research. The author(s) of the prize winning paper shall receive a certificate. The prize will also consist of three years free subscription to EJOR or exemption of the registration of three EURO-k Conferences. The two runner-up papers will receive a prize consisting of a one year free subscription to EJOR or an exemption of the registration fee of one EURO-k Conference.

Authors are invited to submit papers describing an application of Operational Research which has original feature, whether in methodology, application or implementation. The papers should be publishable in the scientific literature (in particular EJOR), should be presented at the Conference and should not be submitted concurrently to another competition. It is not excluded that (part of) the work has already been published or submitted for publication (e.g. to the special 20th anniversary issue of EJOR).

Papers should be no longer than 25 pages double-spaced and should reach the conference secretariat by November 15, 1994. Preliminary registration and abstract form should be submitted as well. Authors are requested to submit 5 copies of their paper together with a letter describing the application, its impact and other relevant information. The authors should also indicate the names of individuals who can be contacted for further information (e.g. com-
1995 EURO GOLD MEDAL

EURO Council have decided to extend the period of nominations for the 1995 EURO Gold Medal until 1st November, 1994. Nominations should be sent to:

Graham K. Rand, Chairman, EURO Gold Medal Jury, Dept. of Management Science, The Management School, Lancaster University, Lancaster LA1 4YX, United Kingdom.

The members of the jury who met at the conference in Glasgow would appreciate the nominations containing the following, if possible:

-1 A statement of the reasons why the nominee is deemed to be worthy to receive the EURO Gold Medal.

-2 A list of publications, perhaps indicating the most important.

-3 A C.V., perhaps summarized, but indicating the significant contributions to the OR community in particular, and the wider intellectual community in general.

Graham K. Rand

pany officers of the client organization).

A jury will carefully review the papers and select three finalists. The three finalists will be notified in due time before the conference. They will be invited to present their paper in a special award session. It is understood that the presentation will be taken into account in selecting the winning paper. After the presentations, the jury will begin its deliberations. The prize will be presented at the closing session of the conference.

The finalists agree to submit a suitably edited version of their paper for potential publication in EJOR upon request. Other authors may also be invited to submit their work for publication in EJOR. All papers will be refereed.

For further questions on the prize, please contact the chair of the jury: Luk Van Wassenhove, Professor of Operations Management and Operations Research, Coordinator of the Technology Management Area, INSEAD, Boulevard de Constance, F-77305 Fontainebleau cedex, France (tel.: +33 1 60 724295, fax: +33 1 60 724242, Bitnet: wassenhove@insead.fr. Further information on the prize can also be obtained by e-mail from EUROPRIZE@INSEAD.FR

12th EURO Summer Institute - ESI XII on Locational Analysis
June 17-30, 1995

ADMITTANCE

Limited to 20 promising young scientists (age up to 35) from different European Countries.

ACTIVITIES

Each participant will present a "research paper" on a topic within the theme. In addition to these activities, the Scientific Committee will also organize "lectures by invited experts". A "special issue of EJOR" (European Journal of Operations Research) will be prepared based on papers presented at the Institute. To facilitate network building among participants, the Organizing Committee will prepare a rich and varied "social program".

LOCATION ACCOMMODATION

Puerto de La Cruz is a Tourist town at the north coast of the Canary island of Tenerife. All the scientific activities of the event will be in the same Aparthotel where the participants will be accommodated. There are a lot of entertainment facilities. Free full accommodation and registration will be provided for selected participants.

APPLICATIONS

Applicants should submit their curriculum vitae together with an unpublished paper within the theme of the Institute to their national OR society before January 31th, 1995. These societies will select their national candidates and submit the applications to the organizers of ESI XII before March 15th, 1995. The final choice will be made by the Scientific Committee, and the selected candidates notified by April 15th, 1995.

INFORMATION

Available from national OR societies or from Organizing Committee.

SCIENTIFIC COMMITTEE

Chairman: Paolo Toth, Universita Degli Studi di Bologna.
The Workshop on Group Decision and Negotiation Support started in 1992 as an initiative of European researchers of different disciplines that wished to exchange experiences and were looking for an European identity within the mainly North-American-dominated field of Group Decision and Negotiation Support Systems. In practice, namely it became obvious that differences in organisation culture induced different scientific approaches to address the problem of supporting group decision making and negotiation. The initiative of some European research centres (INSEAD, Fontainebleau-France; University of Strathclyde, Glasgow-U.K. and Free Universities Brussels, Belgium) evolved in 2 years to a respectable working group with about 50 members in 10 European countries. The workshop was until now organised twice a year and took place at the Free University of Brussels (November '92), the Norwegian School of Management-Sandvika (May '93), Strathclyde Graduate Business School (November '93). The latest meeting was organised during the EURO XIII/OR 36 conference in Glasgow (July '94) and here was decided to apply to become an official ‘EURO-GDSS-Working Group’. The next meeting will be in Tilburg University (The Netherlands) starting Thursday afternoon April 20th and finishing on Friday April 21st. A social programme is provided for Saturday. If you are interested to join us please contact Martin Smits (e-mail: MSMITS@KUB.NL, School of Economics, Tilburg University P.O. BOX 90153, Tilburg NL5000LE, The Netherlands)
A Special Issue of The European Journal of Operational Research to celebrate EURO's 20th Anniversary

Next year EURO celebrates its 20th Anniversary. Several events have been planned for this occasion, including a special issue of the European Journal of Operational Research to appear during 1995. I shall act as Guest Editor of the issue.

The title of this issue will be "OR in Europe - Special Issue to Celebrate the 20th Anniversary of Europe". It has been decided that the bulk of the papers of the issue shall be papers about practical OR applications developed in Europe, possibly involving more than one European country. The main idea for this issue is to contribute to establishing the actual relationship of OR with the realities of economy and society in our countries in Europe. Effort will be made for the issue to be representative of all Europe by including papers from as many European countries as possible. A number of papers referring to developments in OR theory will also be accepted and be included in the issue, provided that they reflect work done exclusively in Europe and, if possible marked with a distinct European character. All papers will be reviewed the normal EJOR way.

I would like to invite all researchers who have been involved in major projects (possibly with a European dimension), in which OR has been successfully implemented, or have produced distinct results in OR theory along the above lines and who might be willing to contribute to the special issue, to send their papers to the following address, following EJOR instructions to authors:

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR COSTAS PAPPIS, UNIVERSITY OF PIRAEUS, DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIAL MANAGEMENT, 80, KARAOLI & DIMITRIOU STR., 18534 PIRAEUS, GREECE

The deadline for submitting papers is 15 November, 1994.
